In 1880 the mineral products of the United States were valued at $250,310,000.
They were valued at $608,536,557 in 1891. The department of industry which has not prospered under our Protective policy has yet to be discovered.
—New York Press.

Speaking of United States Senator Hoach, The Kingston (N. N.) Freeman declares that "it is a National disgrace to have an unrepentant and unblinking thief sit in our highest legislative body." It is worse to plunder a bank than to steal a Legislature!

It remains to be seen whether the Southern Free-traders who dominate the Democratic majority in Congress will dare to include the sugar, rice, orange and other industries peculiar to the South in the death list which they propose to draw up for Northern industries.

The loom lords of England, who gave aid and comfort to the South during the war on account of its Free-trade Constitution, have received Mr. Cleveland's signal with every show of certainty. They are fighting their own employees, however, as vindictively as ever.

Among patriotic Americans the advantage to this country of annexing Hawaii passes unquestioned. That annexation would likewise promote the best interests of the islands themselves is shown by the rise in real estate values there caused by the mere prospect of getting into the Union.

Is Mr. Cleveland opposed to the annexation of Hawaii to the United States because he knows England is opposed to it? Or is he a believer in the "divine right" of the Hawaiian "royal" family to plunder and oppress the people who have applied to the United States for protection from tyranny and barbarism?

Our exports to Hawaii were valued at $734,987 in 1870 when the reciprocal treaty was adopted, which was $30,000 less than our exports in 1870. In 1891 our sales to those islands were valued at $4,953,911. If partial commercial union effected such a phenomenal increase it is fair to assume that full political union would accomplish still greater things.

FREE-TRADE STYLE.
New York Press—It is typical Free-trade "sympathy" with labor, which Secretary Carlisle is displaying in his systematic reduction of the salaries of the humbler employees of his Department. He has long been recognized as one of the most prominent Free-traders in the country and it is natural that his hankering after low wages should show itself when it has an opportunity.

New York Times.—It is doubtless discouraging to the noble army of office-seekers that Secretary Herbert, within ten days of his taking charge of the Navy Department, should desert his post at Washington and go about inspecting Navy Yards, vessels and things. But their discouragement will be dispelled to gloom when they learn that, on his visit to Brooklyn, he has frankly said that he intends to carry out the Civil Service policy of his predecessor, and in the same spirit.

The Civil Service Chronicle of Indianapolis prints twenty-one columns devoted to the seekers after Federal offices from Indiana alone. The number from Kentucky cannot be less and is probably much more. Striking an average and multiplying it by the number of states we get a faint idea of the terrible onslaught now being made by office-seekers on Washington from all parts of the Union. It is unprecedented and a reproach to that independence and self-respect which are supposed to belong to the American character.

A FAMILY MATTER.
New York Press.—The following Democratic Committee of Senators and Congressmen at Washington are said to have named relatives as clerks: Appropriations, Cockrell; Finance, Voorhees; Judiciary, Pugh; Foreign Affairs, Morgan; Privileges and Elections, Vance; Civil Service, Peffer; Library, Miller; Blackburn; District of Columbia, Harris. The Private Secretary of the Vice-President is Louis C. Stevenson. Speaker Crisp has made his son a clerk and Secretary Carlisle has made his "hopeful" his Chief Clerk. Presley's office is a family snap under the Democratic regime.

EARLY in April a good-roads convention will be held in Bowling Green, the delegates being representative citizens appointed by the County Judges. There has been a crying demand for good roads in the rural districts for years, but nothing has been done. The convention is expected to do great things in suggesting the best modern methods of road working and seeing that they are put in operation.

THE NEW YORK.

New Armored Cruiser Tested by the Contractors.

The Results Achieved Were Superior to Her Contractor's Figures.

The Americans Have Reason to Be Proud of Her Speed and Our Ability to Build the Highest Type of Modern Ships and Machinery in the World.

PHILADELPHIA, March 27.—The armored cruiser New York returned to Cramp's ship yard Sunday morning, after a five days' trial at sea, with a record never equalled in a preliminary run. Americans have reason to be proud, not only for wonderful speed attained, but also for the fact that they have demonstrated to the world ability to build the highest type of modern ships and machinery.

While the test was a contractor's trial and unofficial, it was carried with thoroughness, and the results achieved were definite, showing that the New York is superior to her contractors' figures. They are very severe, as twenty knots must be sustained for four consecutive hours at sea. Every part of the machinery performed its functions without breakdown or hitch, and the engineering force who had not been drilled together for two years, worked with such a will that a chief engineer of one of the Atlantic greyhounds working here felt at home in the New York. The vessel did quite as well as the machinery. All the auxiliaries were fully tested, and the steering gear, wireless and electric light plant ran as if they had been in use for months. The behavior of the vessel at sea is excellent. She rolls easily, but not heavily, while her form is such that she adds but little to her resistance by the making of large waves.

She ran down the Delaware on the 21st, and anchored off the breakerwater. She got under way the next day, and steamed out to sea, where a course of miles in the twelve fathoms of water was selected and the vessel was run over this a number of times in order to get high data with which to plan a curve of speed and revolutions. The speed attained was about 19 1/2 knots. Thursday and Friday were both too foggy to warrant the vessel going to sea. On Saturday, however, the weather cleared and the New York put to sea seeking the same course she had been running over on Wednesday. The breeze was moderate and the sea smooth, with a large swell from the southwest. She made two runs over the course, a speed of 18 1/2 knots, with 19 1/2 average revolutions. Since this was in shallow water, the vessel's head was turned straight out to sea and the bell rang for full speed ahead. As the depths of the water increased she did better and 16,500 horse power developed during the run which was kept up for four consecutive hours.

Steam was up on the six main boilers, but there are yet two donkey boilers with a collective power of 1,000 which can be brought into use. The results show that the New York has ample power to attain and surpass her contract speed of twenty knots. This is the largest vessel hitherto built in the United States. The Baltimore, Philadelphia and Charleston were all excellent vessels. In the case of New York a most ambitious design was decided upon. The displacement is 1,000 tons less than that of the English cruiser Blake. She has, however, a long belt of side armor, while her battery is vastly superior, coming near to that of the battleship. There is every reason to believe the New York will equal the Blake and Blenheim, while being in all the fixed elements of the design a better boat.

She carries six 8-inch rifles, mounted so that four can be brought to bear upon any angle. The twelve 4-inch rapid firing guns are in the middle of the powerful battery, while her second battery of 6-pounder and machine guns and her torpedo outfit, are quite the equal of those on any other.

The protective deck is nickel steel as well as the side armor, while the 4-inch guns are protected by four inches thick, and the 6-inch guns by 10-inch barbettes, and 5 1/2-inch turrets. The two military masts are rapid-firing guns in which are mounted rapid-firing and machine guns.

The official trial, which will now be looked for with the keenest interest, will take place in about three weeks. A board of naval officers will be appointed to conduct the trials, which will take place off the coast of New England, where a deep water course of sixty miles can be obtained. It is only a question of how much the New York will exceed the twenty knots.

A DARING PLOT

To Rob a Missouri Pacific Train Discovered—Several Arrests.

ST. LOUIS, March 27.—A daring plot to rob an outgoing Missouri Pacific train was discovered Sunday, and the five conspirators—four men and one woman—are lodged in jail.

Chief Desmond, of the city detective force, received an anonymous message Friday, giving him information of the plot and detectives were put to work on the case. They located the headquarters of the thieves in a disreputable house kept by Minnie Meyers.

In the room the officers found muskets, dynamite and other paraphernalia. The woman caught gave the information which led to the arrest of the men.

The names of the men arrested are J. B. Janney, Louis Lutz, Clark Madison and Robert Neather. They have confessed.

Fatal Attack at Paducah, Ky.

PADUCAH, Ky., March 27.—In a questionable locality of the city Sunday night Jim Speers and William Williams were paying attention to his wife. The man defied himself with a knife and cut Speers fatally in the lower left. Speers is dying and Williams is in jail. Both men have families. William lives in Illinois.

A LIBERAL PREMIUM OFFER.

GEORGE ELIOT'S COMPLETE WORKS.

Latest and Best Edition of this famous author's writings. IN SIX LARGE LEAF VOLUMES. Averaging 600 pages each. Complete and Unabridged. LARGE CLEAR TYPE. NEAT BINDING. The Author's Portrait and Autograph on each book.

George Eliot is pre-eminently the woman writer of the age. Gifted with a mind most masculine in its vigor and power, yet retaining the womanliness which, added to her literary strength, has made her works worthy the highest place accorded to her sex in the world of letters.

"Middlemarch," "The Mill on the Floss," "Felix Holt," "Daniel Deronda," "Romola," and "Clerical Life" are household words among the educated of the land. These works are now placed before the public in most attractive form and our liberal offer places them within the reach of all.

We have much pleasure in announcing that we have just completed arrangements whereby we can offer this very desirable standard set as a premium. The offer which we make below should insure a set going to every lover of books in the country.

The following is a list of the volumes contained in the Complete and Unabridged:

1. MIDDLEMARCH.	5. MILTON—THEOPHASTUS SUCH.
2. DANIEL DERONDA.	6. FELIX HOLT—SCENES FROM CLERICAL LIFE, ETC.
3. ROMOLA—SPANISH Gypsy.
4. ADAM BEDE—POEMS AND ESSAYS.

Books make the best presents, and the above standard set is the handsomest and most attractive premium ever presented by any Newspaper. The price is so low that even including the subscription to our paper, it will be found cheaper than the editions that have heretofore been sold in bookstores. As the edition is limited, orders should be sent to us at once. Books will be forwarded at once on receipt of order.

TWO TRAGEDIES

In the Ohio Penitentiary—The Knife and the Club Be Terrible Tools.

COLUMBUS, O., March 27.—Two tragedies followed the early morning escape of the state's prison Saturday, one of which is likely to result fatally. William Green, a six-year man from Cincinnati, serving for a nameless crime, received in 1889, terribly cut and stabbed Kid Cowan, also a colored prisoner from Hamilton county, serving four years for burglary.

They worked together in a room shop, and Friday Green reported that Green had a counterfeiter's den in his possession.

Deputy Warden Playford tried to make him give it up, but was unsuccessful.

Green suspected that Cowan had given him away, and Saturday morning when the latter stooped in his work near him, leaped upon him with an ugly knife used in making brooms, and slashed him seven times before he could be seized by the guard.

Green is a bad prisoner, and has been punished several times for violations of the prison rules. It is believed that Cowan will recover.

About the same time Clarence Graves, a three-year prisoner from Zanesville working in the bolt shop, assaulted Alex Ash, a United States prisoner from Georgia, who was working with him, and dealt him a terrible blow on the head with his heavy tongs. It is feared the skull is broken.

IN DEFAULT.

The Venezuelan Government Owes Us a Big Sum.

WASHINGTON, March 27.—Under the decisions of the commission appointed in pursuance of the treaties of 1858-59, Venezuela was obliged to pay to the United States the sum of $94,801.06, ten annual installments, with interest payable semi-annually. Venezuela is in default on one annual installment of this award and two payments of interest.

One of Minister Partridge's instructions, it is said, was to do his utmost toward securing the money thus due the claimants who hold the certificates of the claims commission. The claim of the Venezuelan Steam Transportation Co. for destruction of property and violation of contract by the Blanco-Cazman government twenty years ago does not fall under this award.

A treaty is pending providing for the reference of questions of liability and damages to a commission, but inasmuch as the Venezuelan congress will not meet until Feb. 20, 1894, the company has proposed to the Venezuelan government, through the state department, if it will agree to a direct settlement, to advance its claim for compensation of damages and ask payment only for actual damages sustained in the loss of property, with interest, in all about $750,000.

A SENSATIONAL STORY.

Anarchists to Assassinate the Prince of Wales on His Coming to America.

NEW YORK, March 27.—The Morning Journal Sunday published a two-column sensational story to the effect that an anarchist plot had been discovered to assassinate the prince of Wales when he comes to this country to visit the World's fair. It says: "Major Charles Fox Billings, of Peterboro, Ontario, Canada, not long since wrote to Sir Julian Pauncefote stating that he had accurate information that an extensive anarchist plot had begun, in which the leading friends of the red flag of extermination in the United States and Canada are concerned, and which, in the event of a visit of the prince of Wales to America, will end in his murder."

So grave is the situation that the matter of the projected acceptance of Mr. Astor's invitation by the prince is about to become the reason for official inquiry in the house of commons in England. A committee of the house, it is announced, led by Mr. John Foster, M. P., has announced its intention of asking the foreign office for all the information it possesses upon the question of the prince's proposed American trip.

THE SOUTHERN TORNADO.

The Greatest Loss of Life Was at Shaw's Station, Miss.

MEMPHIS, Tenn., March 27.—Reports continue to come in of the widespread destruction wrought by Thursday's cyclone.

In North Louisiana and Southern Arkansas plantations were devastated, farm houses were wrecked and forest trees uprooted. The path of the storm was half a mile wide, and everything went down before it.

The greatest loss of life was at Shaw's Station, Miss., to which place the storm jumped. The house of Drury Surrall, a prosperous colored farmer at the outskirts of Shaw's, was demolished. Every one of the nine inmates were crushed to death in the ruins. Several stores and the schoolhouse at Cleveland, Miss., were razed to the ground.

An International Regatta.

NEW HAVEN, Conn., March 27.—The Oxford crew last night called the Yale crew in reply to the Yale-Harvard request for an international regatta this summer, but the Yale men refuse to make public the contents. It is said the Oxford crew will row the winner of the Yale-Harvard match at New London shortly after the championship series.

Escaped Murderer Surrenders Himself.

MORRISVILLE, Ky., March 27.—Chas. Johnson, the murderer of Pollockman, Col., at Lanesville, Dec. 1891, and who broke jail at Eddyville two weeks ago, returned and gave himself up, weakened and emaciated by sickness. He was found by John Johnson and was either forced to surrender or died of starvation.

Largest Belt in the World.

CINCINNATI, March 27.—The Bradford Electric Belt, a city-owned belt, six feet wide, 116 feet long and weighing 1,800 pounds, which will be used on the electric railway in Brooklyn, N. Y., will revolve at the rate of a mile a minute, and is the largest belt ever manufactured in the world.
